Q27 - What were some of the biggest contributors to your success at Yuba College?

What were some of the biggest contributors to your success at Yuba College?

Tutors

If I had to pick I would say counseling and tutoring.

The professors.

The Counselors

Student Success Center and Valerie Harris!!

One of the biggest contributors for me in Yuba College was the studio for photography.

EOPS

Having been apart of trios

The amazing faculty and staff and being able to work as a student worker. Having the support of everyone at the college meant the world.

My biggest contributors to be success at Yuba College were staying motivated, becoming more independent and asking help when needed.

Silvia González and Julio Zamarripa were key pieces in being able to complete my associate's degree at Yuba College

Puente and TRIO program. They were always willing to help.

Counselor Rupi was awesome help in getting me lined up with a class schedule and answered many questions along the way.

Some of the biggest contributors to my success at Yuba College were the endless support and the many opportunities that were provided.

All my professors taught really well and made school enjoyable. Stephanie tutoring in stats helped me be successful as well.

Being able to achieve and retain my associates degree

My parents and teachers.

My biggest contributor to my success at Yuba College was office hours.

The environment that I was in was a big factor in my success. It was an environment where has a positive mindset and wants to succeed.

My professors. A few I could name are Dr J from Microbio, Professor Herrera from Chemistry, and Professor Sharma from Stats

Q28 - What were some of the biggest challenges you faced while completing your degree or certificate?

What were some of the biggest challenges you faced while completing your degree or certificate?

Managing work and school

When Covid hit I think that was one of the biggest because everything was online and I feel like I wasn't learning and didn't get any help. Another one was when my last year I finally was able to go in person by had to drive back and forth to both campuses all week.

The professors.

Some of the teachers weren't helpful.

Unclear guidance from previous counselors and losing financial aid

My biggest challenge while trying to complete my degree was registering for photo classes. I had to take a couple semesters due to classes for photography not being offered. I was so close to dropping out.

Health Concerns/ Cancer Treatment

Challenges with balancing work as well as mental health

Mostly my own procrastination on assignments. Additionally some confusion about what degree I was actually working towards when I first met with a counselor towards the beginning of my college journey.

My biggest challenges were my first semester when my mom passed away in August 2020. I felt lost and didn't know where to go. But with the help of my counselor Priscilla Hernandez, I was able to get the help I needed and get back on track.

My English wasn't very fluent, and sometimes it was difficult to fully understand the tasks I had to complete, but that didn't stop me

Financially I struggled because I had to save enough money.

none

Some of the biggest challenges I faced while completing my degree were the lack of face-to-face contact from the online classes and many assignments that needed to be done.

The death of my cousin effected me, put me behind a little with dealing with the emotions and the events to follow. My professor Meredith Seldom and Shawn Frederking accommodated and I will forever be grateful.

Math

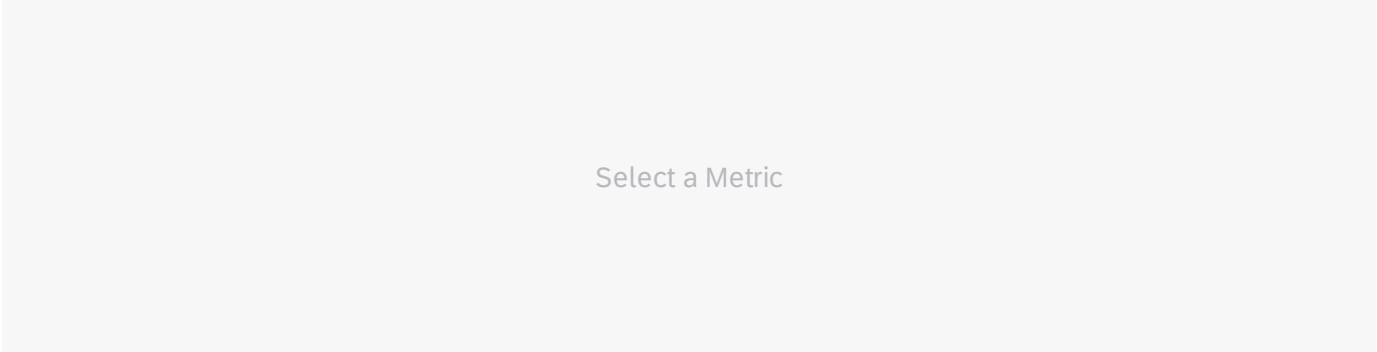

Math classes.

My biggest challenge that I faced while completing my degree was taking econ 1A with professor Christopher Noffsinger and failing that class.

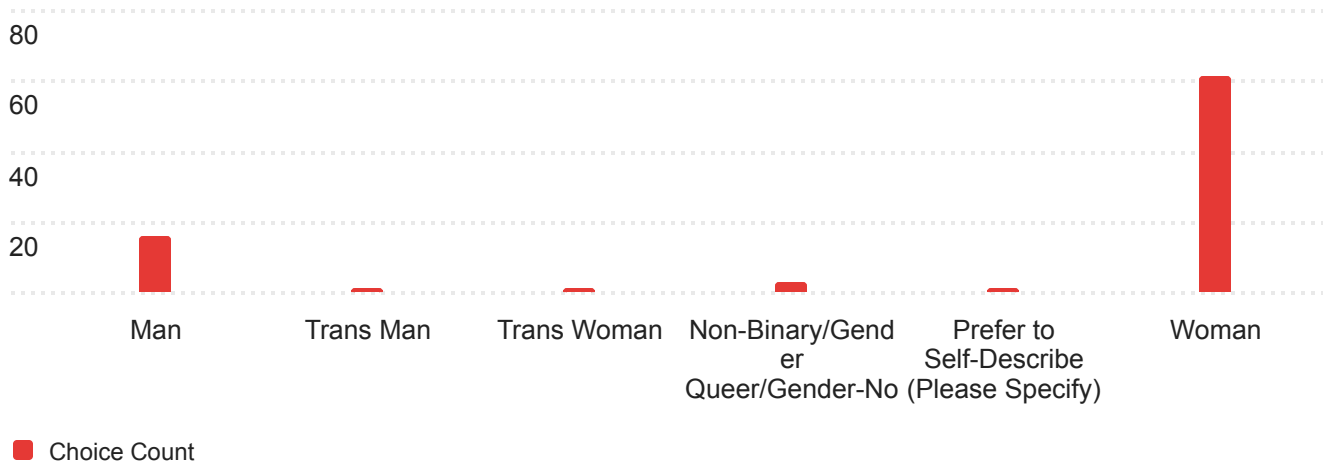

Having a busy schedule was definitely one of my biggest challenges in completing my degree.

Preparing for big exams and essays
